NEW YORK, June 5—The American rifle team who are to contend with the Irish team at Dollymount, and who took passage by the Inman steamer City of Chester, leaving this port to-day, embarked on board the tug boat [illegible] this evening, attended by a large crowd and followed on board by a band of music. The City of Chester left her pier at 5 o'clock and took the riflemen on board in the lower bay. The riflemen are all in the best of health and full of confidence in their ability to bring back additional laurels to those already won in the contest with the Irish team.

Arrest of a Silk Smuggler.

NEW YORK, June 5—W. H. Talcott, buyer for the silk department of H. B. Claflin & Co., was to-day arrested on a warrant issued by the United States Commissioner based on an affidavit made by United States District Attorney Bliss. The affidavit sets forth that Talcott did knowingly buy and aid in smuggling and selling silk goods which had been smuggled. Talcott was held to bail in $10,000. Bliss says Talcott purchased $400,000 worth of silk from one of the alleged smugglers, Lafayette Graaff.

Arrest of Bond Forgers.

NEW YORK, June 5—Valentine Gleason and Chas. Fasten, two alleged accomplices of the notorious Petts, in his extensive bond forgeries, were arrested at the suit of the New York Guaranty and Indemnity Co., for the recovery of $75,000 advanced to Gleason for the gang on forged bonds of the Buffalo, New York & Erie railway company.

Is it the Missing Package?

NEW YORK, June 5—Park bank acknowledges the receipt of $47,000 from the treasury department at Washington, in due course of business. Whether the package is the one reported lost or whether the original has been replaced is not known.

The Way of the Transgressor.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 5—Mark Brown, convicted of the murder of Gloster Carr in Sullivan county, October last, is sentenced to be hanged July 23, at Monticello.

An Important Question in Court.

CHICAGO, June 5—In the U. S. district court of this city, before Judge Blodgett, the question of the right of the government to seize the books and papers of persons whose distilleries have been seized on the charge of defrauding the revenue is being argued to-day. Government claims that the books and papers are part of the personal property of the distillers, and therefore liable to seizure and forfeiture. The defense claim the books and papers are private property, and exempt under the law, they not being compelled to furnish evidence for their own conviction. The decision will be given in a few days.

Incendiarism.

MACHIAS, Me., June 5—An incendiary fire this morning destroyed the Catholic church and parsonage, and the residence of Nathan Longfellow and F. Peabody, with several adjoining buildings and a hundred and fifty thousand feet of lumber. Loss [illegible].

Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, June 5—Loans increase $7,400; specie decrease $882,600; legal tender increase $1,200,000; deposits increase $550,000; circulation increase $150,000; reserve increase $300,000.

The Erie Receiver has Enlarged Powers.

NEW YORK, June 5—On petition of Hugh J. Jewett, receiver of Erie R. R. Co., Judge Donohoe has granted an order empowering the receiver to pay the taxes and charges upon and to work the coal mines referred to in his petition, and to perform any lawful contracts, and to sell securities received to, where in his judgment the interests of all parties will be promoted thereby.

A New Route of Steamer Travel.

GALVESTON, June 4—City of Mexico advices state that efforts are making to establish a line of steamships between Vera Cruz and Galveston, making the trip in sixty hours.

The Texas-Mexico Trouble.

Advices from Neuces county, Texas, report that Adjutant General Steel is on a tour of observation through the country making examination in regard to past troubles, with a view to report to the State authorities. It is stated an enrollment is made of all males liable to military duty between Guadaloupe and Rio Grande in the southern country.

A Brownsville special says Gen. Tuero, recently at Monterey, was on his way to this frontier, of which he is to have command. His force includes two regiments of cavalry, with orders to check the raids in Texas. Gen. Cortina refuses to obey the order directing him to report in person to the city of Mexico. His friends are circulating a petition to the government to let him remain in authority on the Rio Grande. The appearance of Texas state troops on the Rio Grande produced great excitement among the people on the Mexican side. Residents of the ranches above Matamoras have organized to resist invasion.

New Jerusalem.

NEW YORK, June 5—At the annual convention of the Church of New Jerusalem in America the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. Chauncy Giles of New York; Vice President, Hon. F. A. [illegible] of Ohio; Secretaries, [illegible] Binckley and F. A. Duzen; Treasurer, Nathan [illegible].

Suicide of an Army Officer.

NEW YORK, June 5—Captain W. H. Brown, of the [illegible] Infantry, committed suicide yesterday at his residence in this city.

The Black Hills Mines.

CHICAGO, June 6—The Tribune's Sioux City special says Wagner & Chapman's pony express brought in yesterday some of the finest specimens of gold ever seen in that country. The pieces of rock found contain one eighth to one half gold. Miners from Colorado and California say they never saw specimens of equal value in those countries. The quartz was obtained from a party of five who had been in the Hills since March last, but were obliged to come out as the Indians were so troublesome and they couldn't safely remain. They say there are miles of ledge like the specimens they brought.

International Typographical Union.

[illegible], June 6—The 23d annual session of the International Typographical Union begins here to-morrow.

Reduction of Wages in U. S. Bonded Warehouses.

NEW YORK, June 5—It is rumored that the wages of men in the U. S. bonded warehouses here will be reduced to-morrow from twelve to ten dollars a week. The men have threatened to strike if this is attempted.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Not the Missing Package.

WASHINGTON, June 5—The package of forty-seven thousand dollars received by the Park Bank, New York, was sent by the treasury to replace the one lost.

Indian Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 5—The Cheyennes called on Commissioner Smith this afternoon and complained that the Government failing to do anything since they arrived, saying the Indians that did their best were treated the worst by the Government. Tall Bull said if he had learned to lie like Spotted Tail and Red Cloud he would have fared better. After handshaking, the chiefs left and will return home via New York. The President presented Sitting Bull with a fine rifle, nicely mounted and enclosed in a leather case. On the mounting surrounding the lock is engraved "Sitting Bull, from the President, for bravery and friendship."

The Cheyenne Indians requested the commissioner to appoint Rev. S. D. Hinman and Rev. J. [illegible] commissioners to aid in negotiating the Black Hills matter.

The Indians called at the interior department this morning to say good bye to the commissioners. When a short interview took place. They expect to start home to-night.

It is understood the resignation of Agent Saville [illegible] of the department.

Red Cloud said to the commissioners: "We are going home to-day and the young men you see here want to say good bye, and we want you to [illegible] pay for those who came with me as interpreters and all the Indians." The commissioner said there was something about the men who came that he would rather not say. They had come on their own account and had been a source of mischief ever since they had been here. "They led you into bad practices, insisted on your leaving the quarters assigned you and now have the impudence to ask me to pay them for their services. I told your agent to speak for you in getting such presents as you want to [illegible]. I am unable to do more, because I have no money to make purchases."

Little Wound said he was not influenced by these men; that they came there on the invitation of the President, and expected to go home with horses, equipments and guns, so their people would receive them gladly. He said his people would laugh at them if they returned without them. The commissioner said he would not give them guns if he could, and had no power to give them other things.

The Thief Undiscovered—Banks' Count Short.

WASHINGTON, June 5—The thief who stole the packages of bills from the treasury department a few days ago is still undiscovered. Gen. Spinner seems worn out with anxiety. Charges have been made that several banks which sent in change of money to the treasury have been reported short in their remittances, and banks have been required to make up the deficit. Treasury officers say no discoveries have been made and evidence is conclusive that the banks had made [illegible] count.

Military Notes.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]—There is a report unofficially current that Quartermaster General Meigs, having been assigned to special duty with brevet rank of Major General, will be placed in command of the department of the South, with headquarters at [illegible], and that Gen. McDowell will visit Europe and [illegible] upon his return will be placed [illegible].

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]—Postoffice [illegible] at Big Prairie, Linn county, Oregon. Postmaster appointed: H[illegible] Marston, Gaston, Washington county, Oregon.

False Rumors of Secretary Delano's Resignation.

WASHINGTON, June 5—A rumor has been current that Secretary Delano had resigned to take effect July 1st, and ex-Senator Scott of Pennsylvania would be appointed in his place. Secretary Delano says the rumor has not the slightest foundation. As the visit of the Sioux here to negotiate for the relinquishment of their possession of the Black Hills has proved a failure, and that the Indians have left here much dissatisfied, difficulties are apprehended with the whites seeking gold in their territory. It is estimated by agents that the Sioux can muster from three to five thousand warriors, about half armed with rifles and the remainder with bows and arrows. The government meantime will endeavor to prevent adventurers from going to that country, still having some hope through the mediation of commissioners to effect a treaty with the Sioux.

Duty on Guipure Lace.

The treasury department has instructed the surveyor of customs at St. Louis that the proper rate of duty on wool guipure lace is fifty cents per pound and fifty per cent ad valorem.

Mr. McCord, a man well known in the logging fraternity, was brought to Moodyville with one of his feet almost divided into two pieces. It seems that the sufferer had been sharpening a small piece of wood such as a wedge, with an ax he was not used to. The latter slipped in some way and the result was as above.

Summonses have been issued for the apprehension of Thos. H. Long and C. McKay Smith, said to be publishers of the Victoria Daily Standard, at the instance of Counselor Walker, who alleges that he and Counselors Shalcross and Gerow were grossly libeled and defamed in a letter which appeared in that paper about two weeks ago.

The Ottawa Times says: A new contract has been entered into with the postoffice department of Canada for the conveyance of the mails between San Francisco and Victoria. This service heretofore has been a semimonthly one. Under the new contract, however, the service will be semi-weekly during the summer six months and weekly for the remainder of the year. This increased service has been obtained for the same amount of subsidy as was paid formerly for the semi-monthly service.

A man going by the name of Herman Johnson, but whose true name is Herman Johnson [illegible], and living on Main Island and Plumper Pass, has been missing from about the 20th March last. It appears that on or near that date he directed a man who was living with him to go into the woods and cut some timber. He next ordered his Indian woman to go and talk to her friend, and then, taking a Henry rifle, his best clothes, all the bread in the house and some $30 or $40 in money, left the place and has not been seen since.

Political.

LOS ANGELES, June [illegible]—The Democracy, true to its ancient party usage, has appointed a delegation to the State convention. It has shown great judgment in selecting a delegation composed of the best representative men, and will make a favorable comparison with that of any county in the State. It is understood they will claim Hon. B. D. Wilson for Congress and are prepared to urge their claims to representation in Congress from the section. It is supposed by knowing ones Tom Findley has the decided preference over all other candidates for governor in the delegation.

The Independents to-day [illegible] the following named delegates to their State convention: S. M. Garvin, George C. Gibbs, Thomas Hayes, J. S. Thompson, P. C. Tanner, S. H. Waldron, J. J. Fulton and Antonio F. Coronell.

SHASTA, June 6—The Shasta county Republican convention held yesterday elected delegates to the State and Congressional conventions. They are uninstructed.

SAN JOSE, June 5—The Republican county convention met to-day and passed a series of resolutions advocating reform within the party, discouragement of land and water monopoly, just distribution of taxes, legislative control of corporations, more particularly in railroad fares and freights, reduction of public expenses and taxation, preservation of public school system, condemning the conversion of public school moneys for sectarian purposes, endorsing the patriotism and integrity and ability of Grant and opposing a third term. They chose delegates to the State and congressional convention.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., June 5—The Republican county convention met to-day and nominated a county ticket and a delegation to the State and judicial convention. A resolution was adopted by the convention endorsing the renomination of J. H. Jewett for Governor and instructing the delegates to urge him to allow his name to be presented to the convention.

MODESTO, June 5—The Republican county convention met to-day. The following candidates were endorsed: J. H. Maddox, assembly; T. A. Wilson, county assessor. No nominations have been made by the Democrats or Independents.

FIRE AT THE PENITENTIARY.

Soon after 3 o'clock this afternoon, says the Salem Record of the 4th inst., smoke in great volumes was observed pouring up in the direction of the State penitentiary. Hastening out it was found that a fire had broken out and entirely consumed the old penitentiary, flax mill, shoe shop and sawmill. The loss it is hard to estimate. The State Manufacturing Company lost all their heavy machinery, $2,000, and stock and shoes to increase their loss to $5,000. Smith Bros.' loss can be estimated at about $2,000, as they lost but little flax but all their machinery. Mr. Frazier, one of the workmen, came near being smothered by the dense smoke, so sudden came the fire. There are various causes suggested as the occasion of the fire, but the most probable one is that it caught from friction, as there were quite a number of heavy shafts under the building and the flax mill was at work. The old penitentiary cost the State about $60,000 when built, and is a dead loss with all the contents.

The Statesman says the loss at the penitentiary fire on Friday of last week, as near as can be ascertained, is about as follows: State Manufacturing Company $[illegible],000; Smith Bros., flax manufacturers, $500; State of Oregon about $5,000, the tannery being the principal loss for the State. The fire doubtless originated by friction, the bearings of one of the shafts getting jammed with tow, which caused the journal to heat. The convicts used every effort to stop the flames, and did not show a single sign of insubordination during the excitement.

ALSEA INDIAN RESERVATION.

[From the Corvallis Gazette.]

For some months past the citizens of the western portion of our county, especially, have been considerably exercised over various and conflicting rumors relative to the removal of the Alsea Indians and the throwing of that reservation open for settlement by the whites. Under date of May 27th, too late for last issue, we received a brief note from Surveyor General Ben Simpson, enclosing a letter from Hon. J. H. Mitchell, U. S. Senator, setting this matter at rest by giving a statement of the facts in the case as follows:

MY DEAR GENERAL: Yours in relation to Alsea reservation matters is received. I have attended to that business. No proclamation whatever by the President is necessary. The act of congress throws it open to settlement as soon as the Indians are removed, and instructions have been sent out to Fairchild and Sinnott to get the Indians' consent, that is, of those that are outside of the present reservation as established by the act. They are authorized to take these Indians with their consent either to Siletz or Grand Ronde. The Alseas will also be removed. It will be all right. Yours truly,
J. H. MITCHELL.

Capt. Bledsoe took a specimen of the quartz from one of the new ledges near Wagontown, Idaho, down to Winnemucca with him on a recent trip. A. J. Shepard, Esq., had it assayed, and the result was a certificate from Mr. Ginasca, the assayer, to the effect that it contained $20,771 in gold and $1,272 in silver per ton, and was pronounced the richest ore ever assayed at that office.

The Democrat says: A large number of persons, many of them adults, are down sick in Wallmet precinct in Benton county with the scarlet fever. It appears to be of a malignant type and is very hard to control.

A justice of the peace in one of the rural precincts in Lane county had a note for a small account given him for collection that was signed his X mark. The justice, after carefully looking it over, handed it back, saying: "It is no use; it is paid; don't you see it is crossed out?"

The Eugene Guard says: A few days since, while the wife and children of Robert Millican, who lives about fifteen miles from here on the McKenzie, were out strawberrying, she heard the dog bark, and looking up to find the cause saw him engaged in a conflict with a panther. While the varmint was picking the bones of the dog, Mrs. Millican escaped with the children.

The Dalles Mountaineer says: Father Harmon was at his shop at work on last Thursday morning, and feeling a nausea and faintness sat down, and almost immediately fell to the floor unconscious. In a short time he revived sufficiently to be taken home. We judge that the old gentleman had been at work altogether too hard of late and that over exertion was the prime cause. We often wish, as we see him going to and from his business, that one who has seen so much service in his three score years and ten could be put on the retired list. His many friends will be glad to know that he is recovering.

The Lafayette Courier says: Uncle Daniel Bayley's family were taken by surprise Tuesday evening last by the advent of Messrs. Louis Bayley and son from Stark county, Ill. They started from home the 10th of last month, and after stopping several days in California arrived at Portland on the 25th, when they took the cars for Corvallis to visit relatives. They come to this country with the intention of finding a home. Uncle Louis is a brother of Daniel Bayley, of Tillamook county. The two brothers when last they met were in the prime of life, fifty years ago. Now how changed!—both old men, one 89, the other 71 years of age.

According to announcement a meeting of the citizens of Dallas and vicinity was held in the court house on Thursday, the 3d of June, for the purpose of organizing a county board of immigration for Polk county. B. F. Nichols, Esq., mayor of the city, was called to the chair and J. J. Daly was chosen secretary. A number of addresses were made regarding the most feasible plan to be adopted for the purpose of inducing a portion of the immigrants now weekly coming into this State to locate in this county, and the following named gentlemen were elected: R. S. Crystal, W. H. Holmes, J. L. Collins, R. Clark and Warren Truitt.

The State Fair grounds are being much improved for the Pioneers reunion. The Statesman says: The pavilion, or rather the east and west cross of it, has had the old floor torn off and a handsome one laid suitable for the dancing festivities that are to be a part of the programme at the coming Pioneer reunion. All the buildings directly north of the pavilion have been torn down, and when the sheep pens are taken away and the underbrush cut out and ground cleared it will open an extensive and handsome grove. This grove will be fixed up with seats and a speaker's stand, and will hereafter be one of the most attractive features of the ground. New buildings according to the plan adopted are being built under the supervision of Mr. Savage, by the time Fair week arrives the grounds will be in apple-pie order.

A SORRY BUSINESS.

The New York correspondent of the Concord (N. H.) Monitor thus passes before the eye of the reader in panoramic view some of the saddest features of the Brooklyn scandal:

Now that the suicide mania is raging, surprise is expressed that the Brooklyn jury has escaped. These poor fellows are on their fifth month of service and not one has killed himself. What is still more astonishing, no other of the parties have followed the fashion. They are too busy killing each other. The worst victims in the case are the women and children. First, the families of the jurymen, which in some instances are suffering, the paternal help having been cut off since January. Next, the Tilton family, including the beautiful daughter Florence, just budding into womanhood. She is now driven from the domestic wreck and is trying to support herself by teaching. To these are to be added the other children and the mother herself, who was one of the most brilliant girls in Brooklyn. At present she is broken down and probably will not long survive the trial. Tilton himself, like his unfortunate brother Edgar, may yet be the inmate of a lunatic asylum, and many think now he is partially insane. On the Beecher side of the house there is a grown up and married daughter, the wife of a popular clergyman in the interior of New York State, and there are a half dozen sons, each of whom feels the disgrace of this horrid affair. Poor Mrs. Beecher occupies the most trying position. She is a noble woman of powerful mind and more than usual talent. She has seen this storm gathering for four years. She has during that time seen its effects on her husband's domestic life, and she has borne his vagaries with unexhausted patience. Since then the storm has broken on his head, but she has hastened to share it. All through this trial she has attended court and given him the dignity of her presence. If he had possessed one half of her common sense he never would have been there. More than this, Mrs. Beecher has deep sympathy for Mrs. Tilton, whose misfortunes are so clearly the result of Beecher's errors, and this is an addition to the sorrows of the case. People have wondered why poor Mrs. Beecher did not go crazy with this double agony, but she may yet be wrecked by it in mind as she has been wrecked in domestic peace. Mrs. Beecher's maiden name was Bullard. They are a strong minded family, though not brilliant. Real estate men in Brooklyn say the scandal case has damaged the city to the amount of a million at least. Reader, do you ask how? We reply that decent people do not want to live there. In no place in this State is property so depressed as in this unlucky city. Houses are to let in all directions. Rents are down and property is hardly salable. Part of this is due to the disgrace attached to the Beecher scandal. I have spoken of insanity as being one of the contingent results of this horrid affair, and perhaps the reader thought I was exaggerating. Well, I can point to one man, a lawyer past fifty and a man of good abilities, who has become deranged in consequence of heavy losses in Brooklyn property. He invested all he had here and it sunk so low that he became melancholy and at last insane, and is now in an asylum.

The Snohomish telegraph line is in full operation.

THE TERRITORIES.

Olympia is importing potatoes from California.

An Olympia editor bought his ink by the [illegible] because he could get it cheaper, but he [illegible] went to fill the [illegible] one morning and found it wasn't ink by a jugful.

Salomon, of Washington Territory, has, we understand, purchased an interest in a German newspaper in San Francisco, and will soon assume the editorial control of the same.

The C[illegible] Steamboat Co. is now carried on in the Puget Sound district for the benefit of the passengers. If one don't care to pay the sum of one dollar for a ride to Victoria, a special contract can be made with terms anywhere from "klone quarts" to a short bit.

A large number of immigrants from the east via California have arrived at Olympia lately, many of them in search of employment and with limited means. Quite a number have secured various positions at the numerous mills, logging camps and coal fields, while others have gone to farming, etc., etc.

A large wharf boat lately used at The Dalles has been taken down to the mouth of Klickitat river, nine miles below The Dalles. A road is being opened up the Klickitat to connect with the valley, and in connection with the wharf boat will secure much of the business of people of that county as well as a great accommodation to cattlemen.

The Owyhee Avalanche says: Among the new mines that have been created in the new K[illegible] discovered gold regions, a few miles from Silver City, three of them have been named the Comstock, Henrietta and Maggie, which are about 100 feet apart and in the same ledge. The ore, which mainly develops silver, assays $3,000 to the ton.

Idaho embraces an extent of territory larger than all Prussia. It first formed part of the Territory of Oregon. The part lying north of 46° of north latitude was included at one time within the Territory of Washington. In 1863 Idaho was organized as an independent Territory, whose limits were subsequently diminished in 1864 by the organization of Montana and by the addition of the southern part of Dakota. These limits were further reduced some years after in the laying out and organization of Wyoming Territory, leaving nearly 56,000,000 acres.

FARMING ITEMS.

There was a severe frost on Thursday night in Benton county. Beans and corn are looking very yellow.

The grangers of Amity are contemplating the erection of a commodious warehouse and granary at Dayton.

Several valuable cows have died suddenly in Olympia lately, from eating something poisonous—what no one seems able to tell.

The W. T. Farmer says fifteen families went down into Chehalis county last week and found homes on the rich lands along the river bottoms. There is abundance of room for more.

The Record learns that a sharp frost visited the farms on Salem prairie last Thursday night and cut down tomato plants and withered the potato fields and tender vines. Winter not only lingered in the lap of spring but seems to have lapped over into summer.

Articles of incorporation of the Grangers Mercantile Company of Tygh Valley were filed in the county clerk's office of Wasco county last week. The object of the corporation is to engage in the buying and selling of dry goods, groceries, hardware, farming implements, books, stationery, drugs and liquors for medical purposes, and the duration of the same fixed at five years.

The Transcript inquires why more people do not engage in cranberry culture in Washington Territory, and says: All the statistics on the subject go to show that over production is not likely to occur in the next score of years. There are hundreds of acres of land in the Territory well adapted for this purpose, and yet comparatively few are giving any attention to this very remunerative branch of business.

Mr. David Newsom informs the Statesman that on Pudding river settlement, Howell Prairie, Salem Prairie and North Salem, the beans, squashes, melons, corn, cucumbers, tomatoes and potatoes were about all killed by the severe frost Thursday night. The potatoes will come forward again, but the corn will probably be so injured as to be nearly worthless unless warm showery weather succeed this cold dry weather. Such an occurrence as this, at this time of the year, has never been known here before.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

On Thursday morning of last week, east of Salem, during the temporary absence from the room of the family, a little daughter of R. T. Hawley fell from a crib upon a hot stove. She was badly burned about her face and all her hair burned off. It will be a miracle if she recovers from this frightful accident.

Our correspondent at Independence, under date of June 4th, sends the following: Last Tuesday, while F. Williams, the son of our sheriff, was out hunting on the Luckiamute, the gun burst and part of it struck him with such force that he laid senseless for some time. Nearly all his front teeth were knocked out and his forehead badly bruised.

Nathan Knott, the individual who recently assaulted Burrows with a monkey wrench on Salt Creek, Polk county, was tried last Wednesday at the special term of the circuit court for Polk county now in session. He was found guilty of making an assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill, and sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

Rumors of a shooting scrape at Bridge creek arrived in The Dalles last week, says the Mountaineer, between J. W. Cusick and a person whose name we heard was Vowell, in which Cusick was killed and the other man mortally wounded. The last report says that neither party were killed, but that both were wounded. The shooting is said to have been the result of a dispute about a calf. Here is another chance for a sermon on the abominable habit of carrying deadly weapons.

Mr. Charles Fullerton, a carpenter employed on the new farmers' warehouse at Salem, met with a very severe injury last Friday morning. While he was at work on the frame work of the building and using the very dangerous tool known as an adze, he cut a deep gash in one of his knees, immediately over the knee pan. The wound bled profusely, but the flow of the life current was stenched as soon as possible. His fellow workmen rendered all the assistance in their power, and Mr. Jacob Conser sewed up the wound.

A CARD.

SALEM, June 4, 1875.

The OREGONIAN of the 3d inst. contains a letter from James McDonald of Yoncalla, in which charges are made against my official conduct. These charges are false. Mr. McDonald has been to me an enemy for years. His animosity has grown out of circumstances developed in the discharge of professional duties on my part against him, wherein his testimony was in several civil suits impeached, and in a criminal action where he was convicted of stealing a gun from an Indian. More recently he has been indicted for sodomy. For these reasons I can have no controversy with him. The evidences of the truth or falsity of these charges are in this office, and whenever any respectable and responsible person desires to make any inquiry into my official acts I stand ready to afford every facility.

SHERMAN'S MEMOIRS.

SIMONSON'S SHOT THAT KILLED BISHOP POLK—THE TRAGEDY GRAPHICALLY DESCRIBED BY AN EYE WITNESS.

[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]

In your review of "Sherman's Memoirs" what purports to be a statement of the manner in which General Polk was killed is given, from which it appears that Sherman called General Howard's attention to a group of officers on Pine Mountain, and "ordered him to compel it to keep under cover." Will you permit one who was attached to General Howard's headquarters, and who was by his side daily on the Atlanta campaign—one who, with Howard and other officers, sat our horses beside the Fifth Indiana battery that fired the fatal shot—to give the true story from my notes made that morning and published in a Western daily a few weeks afterward? There certainly is a grievous error either in your review or in Sherman's description of the tragedy. General Sherman was not there, and could not have seen the shot fired. General Sherman may have, however, as he rode to the rear, where he met Howard, called his attention to what he (Howard) would see when our party reached General David Stanley's front. The facts—in which I am sure I will be sustained in the main by Generals Howard and Stanley and the staff officers present—are these:

On June 14th General Howard and staff left their headquarters for the front, where Stanley's division of Howard's (Fourth) Corps had broken camp and were awaiting the order to attack Pine Mountain. It was just after sunrise. A mile or two in rear of the advance Howard met Sherman, but the conversation between them I did not hear, as the two Generals conversed aside. Howard and staff joined Stanley and his staff on the road in full view of Pine Mountain, and as we drew rein and exchanged greetings, Stanley exclaimed:

"Howard, do you see that group up there on the crest of the mountain? I wonder who they are?"

We all brought our field glasses to bear upon the point indicated and could plainly see three persons standing in front of a line of breastworks, and a larger group in the background. We could not tell whether they were officers or privates, but as it was evident that they were watching our movements Stanley suggested that a few shots be fired to drive them under cover. Howard, who had suggested that perhaps Bishop Polk was in the party, made no objections, when Stanley turned to Captain Simonson, his chief of staff, with the remark:

"Simonson, can't you unlimber, put a shot into that group and give the Bishop a morning salutation?"

"I'll try!" was Simonson's laconic reply. And away he galloped to the rear. A few minutes later a section of the Fifth Indiana Battery (Simonson's) was unlimbered within twenty feet of us. The Lieutenant sighted the gun and the shot exploded over and to the right of the group. Here my memory fails me, but my impression is a second shot was sighted and fired by the Lieutenant with no better effect. Simonson, when the gun had been reloaded, dismounted, and said: "Here, Lieutenant, let me try it." He took the range and the messenger of death sped on its mission. Our glasses were bent upon the group, and we observed a commotion as the shot took effect in the group that scattered to the rear. While Simonson was upon his knees sighting the gun for another discharge, Captain Leonard, Chief of Howard's Signal Corps, sitting on his horse beside me, read the Confederate signal code that our officers had interpreted at Lookout Mountain, and caught the words:

"General Polk is killed!" With a look of amazement, Leonard turned to Howard and Stanley and exclaimed:

"Bishop Polk is killed!"

"What!" exclaimed Howard, "have you interpreted the signal correctly?"

"Yes, General. Simonson's last shot killed him. They are signaling it along the line."

The young men of the staff who were cracking jokes instantly ceased, and for a moment none spoke. Then Howard said:

"Well, a Christian has fallen. Such is war."

Just then Simonson caught the words, "Bishop Polk is killed!"

He was sighting the gun, and, lifting his eyes, that glared fearfully, exclaimed:

"What is that, Leonard?"

"Bishop Polk is killed! Your last shot did it. They are signaling it over the mountain," I replied.

Simonson's head dropped upon the "vent," where it rested a moment. Then, raising his eyes, he exclaimed:

"Thank God! Yesterday they killed my dear brother, I have killed a Lieutenant General and am avenged!"

Without discharging the piece Simonson arose, remounted and joined the staff. Silently he repaired to his regular duties, and, the line being formed, we advanced slowly against the mountain, every one of us feeling that we would have rejoiced had some other than Louisiana's fighting Bishop gone down before Simonson's first and only shot. The enemy was so demoralized that he evacuated the mountain, and half an hour afterwards we stood upon the spot where Polk fell and saw the ground stained with his blood. A day or two after, poor Simonson, the only one of us who rejoiced at the Bishop's death, fell shot on the skirmish line in Ackworth Woods.

Then was the Confederacy avenged. It is possible that General Sherman had been to the front that morning, and seeing the group referred to, ordered Howard to disperse it, but certain it is that he was nowhere near Howard when Simonson's shot felt for the heart of Leonidas Polk, the fighting Bishop.

BACK FROM THE DEAD.

THE ROMANTIC STORY OF BENSON G. RAINS, CO. K, FIFTY-SIXTH ILLINOIS VOLUNTEERS.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Inter Ocean.]

HARRISBURG (Ill.), May 10—You perhaps have not forgotten the loss of the ill fated steamer General Lyon and the brave men who perished with her at sea, March 30, 1865. Many soldiers lost their lives in the burning vessel, while others sought refuge in the relentless waves, and there found a watery grave. Of the many hundreds who were aboard the General Lyon but twenty-eight were known to have been saved. They were picked up by the steamer General Sedgwick four hours after the burning of the Lyon.

The non veterans of the Fifty-sixth Illinois Volunteers, 205 in number, were passengers on the General Lyon. Five of these men were saved, and they reported the balance of their comrades as lost. After the lapse of more than ten years, however, one more of the passengers of that ill starred vessel turns up at Guy's Hospital, London, England, and writes to his father near Golconda, Illinois, giving an account of himself. The name of this man of misfortune is Benson G. Rains. He belonged to Company K, Fifty-sixth Illinois Volunteers.

After his term of service expired, he and his comrades were started home for muster out, and were furnished transportation on the steamer General Lyon. Very soon after sailing the vessel encountered a storm off Cape Hatteras, and in the midst of it took fire and was totally destroyed. Rains leaped into the sea, and, with Lieutenant Butler, clung to a cabin door. They drifted upon the billows for four days without food or drink, and, more dead than alive, were picked up by a schooner and left on an island, where Butler died and Rains remained ten years. In March last he escaped aboard the British man-of-war Vengeance, and was taken to London, and, being sick, was placed in Guy's Hospital.

Application has been made to the Secretary of War to have our Minister at London requested by cable to have Rains cared for and funds furnished him for his return home.

The stories of Robinson Crusoe and the hero of Foul Play are probably excelled in interest by the adventures of this gallant soldier, who, after serving his country for more than three years, and participating in the victories of the Army of the West at Corinth, Vicksburg, Mission Ridge, the Atlanta, Savannah and South Carolina campaigns, fled from the deck of a burning ship in mid ocean to find refuge on the raging sea, and, with an endurance scarcely to be credited, resisted death from cold, hunger and thirst, and at last is about to be restored to his friends after a captivity of ten years on a lonely island. Surely, truth is stranger than fiction.

WHAT TOWN CAN BEAT IT.—We have in Dallas thirty nine marriageable young ladies, and prettier, sweeter, nicer, more graceful, lovely, pretty, loving, beloved, dashing, shining, distracting, stunning, gushing, heart-crushing, man killing, brain turning, peace-disturbing, angelic, true hearted, soul healing, coquettish, tricky, deceiving, go-back-on-ish, repenting, kick out of the traces and in again lot of sweets, the eye of that happy American buzzer, the average young man of Oregon, never gazed upon. If we were a young man we would issue a proclamation proposing to the whole batch of them at once, and then if they all said yes, would accept the most financially responsible bidder.—Dallas Item.

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 7, 1875.

VOLNEY SMITH ON THE SITUATION IN ARKANSAS.

Volney V. Smith, one of Oregon's distinguished sons, who was lately appointed U. S. Consul at St. Thomas, has been interviewed by a Tribune reporter, to whom he gave a statement of the condition of affairs in Arkansas, as seen from his standpoint. It must be remembered that he has enjoyed peculiar advantages for forming a correct judgment on the subject of which he speaks, having been for a long time a resident of the State of Arkansas, and connected somewhat prominently with the principal political events that have taken place there during the last two or three years. He was the candidate of the Republicans for the office of Lieutenant Governor, at the time Governor Baxter was their man for Governor; and when the latter, after the adoption of the new constitution, surrendered the office to Governor Garland, who was elected under it, Smith, holding Garland's election void, and taking Baxter's conduct as amounting to a resignation of the office, proclaimed himself Governor, and commanded all persons holding office under the new constitution to retire from their position and cease the exercise of functions which might give them trouble. The officers thus warned gave no heed, and the people did not flock around Smith and carry him with acclaim triumph into the Executive chair. In fact nothing happened that was very startling. Smith slept over his performance, and awaited a reply to the telegrams he had sent to the President for military assistance to hold the fortress. The answer came, and was a disappointment. The President did not respond in a way to save the too credulous Smith. Then Smith saw that he had got his foot in it, and he fled to the mountains in the north, the canebrakes or to the U. S. custom house at Little Rock. Nobody knew certainly to which of these refuges for felony he betook himself; but in one of them he remained hidden till he was indicted for a felony; and then,—of course, he came out! Of course, he did no such thing. Garland's entire force hunted for him day and night for a long time,—though some people seemed to doubt that they were very anxious to find him. Garland offered a reward for his delivery into the hands of the officers of the law, though they do say he withdrew the offer with unusual haste and under circumstances that suggested the possibility of his being influenced thereto by apprehensions that somebody was about to place himself in a situation to demand the bribe by producing the body of Smith alive and in good fighting trim. It was an awkward state of affairs, and there is no telling what it might have led to had not the President of the United States come to the rescue. He settled the whole matter by the timely appointment of Smith to the consulate of St. Thomas, a position where he will have nothing to do and a salary that will pay his board if he will only be, to adopt the locution of Mrs. Clara Peggoty Barkis, "a little near" in his habits at table.

We have rehearsed this long story to demonstrate not alone the opportunities Smith has had of understanding awkward matters, and the uses to which the President of this great Republic may be put in a pinch, but likewise to show how it was that Smith was in New York on his way to the islands of the sea and the Tribune reporter was enabled to interview him.

And what did Smith say about the state of things in Arkansas? He said the State was "more peaceable and quiet than it had been for years, and much more so than it would have been had the troubles there been settled otherwise than as they were settled. He expressed the opinion that a large majority of the Republicans of the South would like to see Gen. Grant re-elected, but by no possibility could a Republican Presidential candidate carry the State of Arkansas. He thinks the Republican party, organized as it has been heretofore, will in all probability never attempt to make another canvass in the State. There is a conflict of interest between some of the leading Democrats of the State, which will probably culminate in the formation of two political organizations in the State, with the present Governor, Mr. Garland, at the head of one, and Robert Johnson at the head of the other. Financially, Mr. Smith considers the State to be in a very bad condition, on account of the impoverished condition of the people. The collection of taxes has been stayed, and all of the public schools and some of the charitable institutions have been closed because of a lack of funds to carry them on. The present State government found a large amount of outstanding State scrip, which was receivable for taxes, and they found also an empty treasury. Such a state of affairs made necessary a further issue of State scrip, which had to be disposed of at the rate of $4 or $5 for $1. In point of fact, Mr. Smith considers that the State of Arkansas is virtually bankrupt. There are no financiers there, and Mr. Smith asserts that there is no possibility for relief unless the aggregate State debt is scaled." "Scaled," it is perhaps unnecessary to explain, is a mild term for "repudiated." That is, a debt is scaled down to a certain per cent., which is paid in lieu of the whole, the balance being repudiated. Since there are "no financiers" in the State of Arkansas since Smith got out, there is surely ground to fear this excellent plan of paying debts by scaling them, will not be adopted and that the State will remain bankrupt till Grant and Garland consent to let Volney Voltaire come home.

RENTS FOR STATE OFFICES.

We went to the Secretary of State this morning for information on the important matter, now much argued, as to what rents the State is paying for the use of offices and we acquired the following:

On taking possession of his office Secretary Chadwick found that his predecessor, S. E. May, was paying $2,000 annual rent for the upper rooms in Holman's block. This he continued to pay, and as the wants of the State increased he also rented the upper rooms of the brick block owned by Grover and Miller, on the opposite corner, for $1,300 per annum, making a total of $3,300 per annum for both. After the action of the last Legislature he considered the cost of removal and found that, adding this expense to the rents to be procured elsewhere, there would be no economy in making the removal, as he had secured much better terms for the premises now occupied than had been paid before.

He now pays Holman $1,300 per annum instead of $2,000, and for the Grover and Miller block $800 instead of $1,300, and for the two buildings he now pays $2,100 instead of $3,300, as before, a saving of $1,200. To remove the heavy safes to other rooms, and fit them up in all respects as now arranged, would cost a larger sum, more than could be saved to the State before next spring, at which time the capitol commissioners say the new offices will be ready in the new capitol building.

He was offered rooms in Reed's opera house, but not sufficient to accommodate the offices that must be provided for. It is not easy to see that a removal would be economy and we give these facts as we got them from the secretary, in our own language, for which he is not responsible.

As to the other charges against him, made on the strength of what Watkinds and others have said, we made no inquiry, but he informs us that on these and all other matters pertaining to his official relations and conduct he invites the most full and ample scrutiny. We hope those who have made the charges will follow them up and prove them, if possible, and we make this statement to help along the investigation, though we believe that the secretary will come out all right.

The above, which we clip from the Salem Record, is Secretary Chadwick's explanation of the charges of wasteful expenditure of the people's money in the payment of higher rates than he need pay for rents. We have not intended to countenance any unjust accusations against the secretary, and shall be as ready always to do him justice, we hope, as he could require. For that reason we give him the benefit of the publication of the Record's article complete. And now, since this subject that ought never to have been closed, is fairly opened again, we hope the secretary will not take it amiss if we ask him one or two plain questions, answers to which will certainly be gladly received by the public and may possibly at the same time set the secretary himself right before the country.

1st. In what way and for what cause did the "wants of the State" so increase as to make it necessary to rent rooms additional to those previously used by the State?

2d. If these additional rooms are worth only $800 per annum, how did it happen that $1,300 was paid for them till the last legislature directed the expensive establishment to be discontinued? That was not merely the continuation of an improvident contract of Sam May's, was it?

3d. The difference between the price paid now, and the price for which accommodations in the other building could have been obtained at any time hitherto, is $600 per year (before the legislature "went for" the matter it was $1,500); now, is it true that it would cost to remove the safes, etc., across two blocks all that could have been saved by making the change when the legislature directed it? From that date to the next spring, the time when, according to the secretary, the capitol commissioners think they can furnish him quarters, is, at the very least, eighteen months, and the saving therefore not less than $900; would it cost this sum to remove the State offices across the block?

Now a word as to the other charges. The Secretary says they were made "on the strength of what Watkinds and others have said." That is a prevarication. Watkinds has never, to our knowledge, said a word derogatory to the Secretary, or his official conduct. Watkinds is the chief man of the Democratic ring at Salem, and may therefore be presumed to be friendly to the Secretary; but friendly or unfriendly he has nothing to do with this matter. A person living in Douglass county, who, so far as we are aware never saw Watkinds in his life, has stated over his own signature, that a certain law reached the governor for his approval with an important provision left out, which was in it when it passed through the last branch of the Legislature. That does not, necessarily involve a criminal charge against the Secretary, but his relations to the subject matter are such that be of all others is the person to hunt out and explain the transaction, and his failure to do so may give rise to suspicions. It will not do to dismiss matters of so great gravity with a general allusion to "Watkinds and others."

Since writing the above we have received the card of Secretary Chadwick which we cheerfully publish. If the Secretary thinks he has sufficiently responded to the demand which the circumstances of this case make upon him, when he says McDonald is a bad man, we fear he is making a serious mistake. McDonald may be, for aught we know, such a person as the Secretary pronounces him; but that does not at all meet the case. If he is a person so worthy of belief that a charge by him can be met by the simple word of the Secretary, it would be easy for the Secretary to rout him by stating specifically the facts with relation to this matter of the law being changed before it reached the Governor. But instead of that, Mr. Chadwick contents himself with a general assertion that the charges are false, whereas it is well known the charge respecting the rents is not false but true in substance, as Mr. Chadwick himself admits to the editor of the Record. It is plain that Chadwick and McDonald are enemies, and it is probable the latter is too ready to accept stories to the prejudice of the former; but it is likewise, we think, pretty plain that this story of the amendment to the law is not "made from whole cloth." There is something at the bottom of it which it would be well now to have brought to the light.

VANDALISM AND MURDER IN CUBA.

A few days ago we referred to the deplorable condition of affairs in Cuba, caused by the vandalism of the rebel "patriots." As showing more definitely the extent to which robbery and destruction of property are carried on in that unhappy country we call attention to some items. A partial list of the sugar plantations destroyed between the 1st of March and the 20th of April, in three districts shows the destruction in the district of Cienfuegos of six plantations, with their cane, mills, buildings and other improvements, worth $1,900,000; nine in the district of Villa Clara worth $1,460,000; and eighteen in the district of Sagua la Grande, worth $3,000,000. These plantations represented, in the aggregate, an annual product of $62,100 hogsheads of sugar. The estates destroyed up to the end of April were worth before the war not less than $25,000,000.

The planters are thoroughly discouraged and are abandoning their lands under the conviction that whatever they may do toward rebuilding their improvements will be wasted by the marauding "patriots," or exhausted by exorbitant taxation.

And growing out of this lawlessness in the rural districts, or encouraged by it at least, an equally disordered condition of society obtains in the towns. There is no longer security for property, or for life, in places where least danger would be apprehended—not even in the streets of the city of Havana in broad daylight. A dispatch from Havana, dated May 15, says:

Havana and the neighboring country for the last few days has been the scene of numerous robberies and assassinations. Recently a car on the way from Guanabacoa to Havana, containing 18 passengers, was entered by four robbers and the passengers stripped of everything they carried. At Havana, while the Acting Captain-General was writing in his cabinet, a thief entered the room and stole his watch. A professor of the University, while proceeding along one of the principal streets of Havana, at 11 o'clock last Saturday morning, was robbed and murdered. These are not the only cases. The crimes committed during the last few days in broad daylight are too numerous to mention. The police are very negligent. The government grants the policemen barely enough to keep them alive. Many have resigned, as the government has not paid them their salaries for over five months.

On Sunday, May 23d, Rev. A. R. Medbury, formerly of this city, at present pastor of the Second Baptist church at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, preached a sermon on the wreck of the Schiller, in which he took occasion to make some remarks upon the reckless sacrifice of life by the transportation companies, which are applicable everywhere. He said:

> What influence, what power, is it that thus trifles with human lives and affections. It is well to recognize the hand of Providence in these calamities, but it is idle to charge the blame to God when man is at fault. We live in a world of haste. Ships are scheduled to make time, regardless of risks. The hurry of every one is to become rich. There is a general scramble to accumulate rapid fortunes. Transportation takes no account of safety, but becomes a calculation of the quickest way to make profits. The destruction of life goes on unchecked; and never in the worst times of the Orient, or in the history of modern warfare, has the present recklessness been surpassed. In the case of the Schiller, the first impulse was to throw the blame on the captain, who died at his post, but it appears that the captain perished, with the 300 or more others who went down with him, in obeying orders. His orders were to make port "on time." The schedule was promulgated by the owners; it was fatal to the safety of the ship. This whole business is the greed of Mammon; and the sovereignty of Mammon is the sovereignty of murder.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—At a sale of real estate held a few days ago the following property was sold: Two lots on the bottom ground at the northwest corner of Clay and Thirteenth streets, was sold to DeLashmutt & Oatman for $225. A tract between Lownsdale and Thirteenth streets, and on the north side of Clay street, containing about five-sixths of a full block, located on the west face of the hill, was sold to B. O'Hara for $625. The tract between the above and Twelfth street and reaching up on to the high ground, was knocked off to H. H. Northup at $1,675. The small tract, containing about two lots, on the high ground at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Clay streets, was sold to DeLashmutt & Oatman for $400. A tract on the low ground between Clay and Market streets and west of Thirteenth street, and containing about three lots, was sold to J. B. Roberts for $275. The full block on the west face of the hill, between Lownsdale and Thirteenth streets, and Clay and Market streets, was sold to P. D. W. Hardenberg for $1,070. The full block between Clay and Market and Lownsdale and Twelfth, and reaching to the high ground at the latter, was sold to DeLashmutt & Oatman for $2,150. A tract containing about two lots on the east side of Twelfth street, between Clay and Market streets, was sold to J. N. Dolph, who owns the remainder of the block, for $575. A small tract, about one lot, on the low ground at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Market streets, was sold to B. O'Hara for $150; and a tract on the high ground at the east side of Twelfth, and south of Market street, was sold to Dr. H. McKinnell, who owns the adjoining portion of the block, for $125.

PASSENGERS.—The steamer Ajax sailed from San Francisco for Portland on Saturday, bringing the following passengers: Capt. L. Remoff, U. S. N.; Capt. H. R. Anderson and family, U. S. A.; J. Teal, Jr.; Miss A. St. Clair, R. C. Sanfley and wife, S. French, M. French, J. D. Schaff, N. Simon, F. A. Lawson, W. W. Parker, C. W. Holt, J. V. Borden, Dr. J. C. Baker, F. O'Leary, J. J. Armstrong, E. M. Morgan, James Phelan, Ed. Martin, Ed. Martin, Jr.; Wm. Smith, S. B. Shaw, D. Leiggs, W. R. Kimball, J. Hector, M. Sachs, E. W. Ryan, A. D. Gibson, C. McPherson, J. C. Norton and family, C. Bonner and family, J. P. Gilman and family, N. G. Giffs and family, Sister of Charity, Rev. L. Heinenger and family, Leo Hofer, W. H. Banter, N. A. Jenne and family, O. Bluin, H. C. Plummer and family, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. H. Sheiland and child, Mrs. P. Churchill, Mrs. C. L. Barlow, Mrs. J. N. Campbell, F. E. Whitaker, Dr. J. L. York, S. O. Sutter and family, J. P. Neil and mother, M. L. Lynch, advance agent of Lingard troupe.

BODY EXHUMED.—The Astorian of the 5th inst. says: "Lieut. J. L. Knapp, of Fort Stevens, has been in town the past week, superintending the disinterment and removal of the body of the sub-chief of the Stikine Indians, Fernandesta, who committed suicide in his stateroom on the steamer Gussie Telfair before entering this port from Sitka, Sunday evening, January 3d. He was en route to Portland, under orders from the chief of this military department, to testify before the United States authorities concerning the sale of liquor to the Indians. He was buried here on the arrival of the steamer. It was feared at the time that serious consequences would result and that trouble with the tribe was inevitable. In order to pacify the Indians numerous presents have been given them, and the authorities have finally concluded to comply with the demand of the Indians, to have the body of their chief returned to them. The remains were placed on board the California, which left here for Sitka last Wednesday."

CHARTER ELECTION.—Monday, June 21st, is the day designated for holding the municipal election in Portland. The polls will be open from 9 A. M. until 6 P. M. Seven officers are to be chosen—one councilman from each ward, a police commissioner, mayor, treasurer and assessor. The councilmen are to serve for three years, also the police commissioner. The terms of office of the mayor, assessor and treasurer are limited by the charter to two years. A police commissioner is to be elected to fill the place of Mr. William Wadhams, whose term expires by limitation. The councilmen who retire are Mr. Geo. L. Story, from the first ward; E. F. Russell (who resigned last winter), second ward; and J. C. Moreland.

A handsome crayon portrait of the wife of one of our leading citizens is now on exhibition at the White House, No. 89 First street. We do not recollect ever to have seen displayed in our city anything to equal this piece of highly finished work of art. It is from the well-known firm of Buchtel & Stolte, the leading photographers of this city, and the oldest establishment of the kind in the State. That enterprising firm do not spare time nor money in the accomplishment of first-class work, and everything that is sent out by them is of home production. Mr. C. W. Hesselmann, the accomplished knight of the pallette, who is in the employ of the above named firm, should certainly feel proud of this piece of art, so true to nature.

ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—On Saturday a row occurred between two men—brothers-in-law—named respectively Whiteaker and Purvis, both of whom live on the Sandy road about 4½ miles from East Portland, resulting in the former drawing a large knife and pursuing his adversary. Purvis ran away and was followed for some distance by Whiteaker, who threatened to kill him. Yesterday, Purvis came to the city and swore out a complaint against his brother-in-law, charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon. The case will probably come up for examination to-day in police court.

A CALL FOR JAMES.—Mrs. Caroline M. Ellis writes us from San Francisco, under date of May 31st, as follows: "Please inform me if a man by the name of James Peter Ellis is or has been doing business in your city (Portland). He left his home and child twenty-three years ago, since which time I have heard occasionally from him; have grown heartsick and weary waiting for the husband of my youth, and have come to California, hoping to find him. By answering this you will receive my most sincere thanks. Please direct letters to Stockton."

DIED.—Mr. Daniel Norton died at his residence yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, of consumption, after a long, lingering illness. Deceased was for more than three years a member of the metropolitan police force, and was a faithful and competent officer. On account of ill health Mr. Norton resigned his position some months ago. A loving and devoted wife survives him. Funeral will take place to-day.

CHANGE IN DIRECTORSHIP.—Says the Evening Journal: "It is reported on pretty good authority that within the last day or two a change of directors has taken place in the Oregon Central Railroad Company, (Winnemucca) W. S. Ladd, H. W. Corbett, D. P. Thompson and Henry Failing having been elected to succeed Theo. Wygant, W. H. Watkins, E. Quackenbush and E. G. Hughes, resigned."

MULTNOMAH MARCH.—This is the title of a new piece of music composed by Mr. Charles Bray, published by the house of M. Gray, San Francisco, and just laid on our table. The music is dedicated to that old sterling fire company, Multnomah No. 2, and bears on the title page the photograph of the present foreman, Mr. Stephen Skidmore.

May 24th—Boston 5, Centennial 0; Philadelphia 6, Hartford 5. The Hartford-Mutual game, May 21, was the best game played this season.

PRINTERS' PICNIC.

Without exception, the bugest affair in the picnic line was given on Saturday, at Harney's Grove, near Vancouver, under the auspices of the printers of Portland. So far as we have heard expressions, it is a generally conceded point that it was the most numerously attended picnic excursion that has ever taken place from this city. If the attendance, and the general success of the affair, can be regarded as an evidence of popularity, then the printers of Portland must be set down as a most popular class of citizens. Everything seemed to conspire to render the picnic successful and thoroughly enjoyable. Public attention had been thoroughly aroused, and public interest awakened to the importance and magnitude of the event, and as a natural consequence, great expectations were entertained. Gracious heaven smiled down propitiously and a most lovely day was vouchsafed. A more beautiful day could not have been desired for any out door event—bright sunshine and just enough breeze to banish sultriness. Eight o'clock found the steamer Annie Stewart, from whose jack staff gaily floated a pennant, and her consort, the barge Autocrat, safely moored at the O. S. N. Co's wharf, in readiness to receive the excursionists. At a much earlier hour the members of the "craft" were observed flitting hither and thither completing necessary arrangements, and on all sides were heard the busy notes of preparation. Shortly after the boat reached the wharf, a constant tide of humanity began to pour in that direction. Gentlemen representing the various professions and avocations, accompanied by wives, daughters, sisters, mothers and sweethearts, all attired in their neatest and best attires, bearing the indispensable lunch baskets, swelled the eager throngs that poured without intermission toward the point of embarkation. Long before the hour for departure—9 o'clock—had arrived, the boat and barge were crowded to overflowing with the youth, beauty, intelligence and social refinement of the city. Before the last whistle sounded, at least 1,000 persons had embarked. Fifteen minutes to 9 o'clock, the Northwestern Band, after discoursing a dashing air at the corner of Alder and First streets, marched down to the boat. A few minutes later, a sharp whistle was given, the lines were cast off, and the boat headed down stream with colors gaily fluttering in the breeze and the band playing. Twenty minutes after the boats were under headway the barge floor was cleared—that is, as large a space as the immense crowd would admit—and dancing was inaugurated. This was kept up spiritedly without intermission until Vancouver was reached. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen stepped on board from that place and the steamer pushed on up the river. The landing opposite the picnic grounds was reached a little after half-past 11 o'clock. In making the landing, which was very inconvenient and difficult to reach, the barge struck against the bank, and the weight of the advancing steamer parted the line. The gang-plank between the barge and steamer was violently thrown up on the side, and a portion of the railing broken. One gentleman was caught between the gangway and the side of the steamer cabin and slightly injured. Other persons narrowly escaped injury, while the rowboat Webfoot, belonging to Mr. LaChapelle, which was to have been used by the Bat-tia crew in the race for the silver cup, was considerably crushed and rendered totally unfit for service. Owing to this unexpected event the crews were unable to have the race, which was to very many a severe disappointment. Reaching terra firma in safety, the excursionists took up the line of march for Harney's Grove, about half a mile distant. Ten or fifteen minutes' leisure walk brought the crowd to the grounds, which were indeed as pleasant and beautiful as could have been desired. Lunch was the first thing in order, and the appetites of the picnickers were well sharpened by the long ride and fatiguing walk, and enabled one and all to keenly relish the abundantly provided refreshments. An hour or more was alloted to appeasing the cravings of the "inner man," when the regular advertised sports of the day commenced. The following gentlemen were appointed by the committees to act as judges for the various sports: J. E. Evans, Jos. Buchtel, Capt. H. Cook, A. G. Walling, Jos. Reilly and T. J. Robinson. Preliminaries were soon arranged, and the sports were inaugurated, with the following results:

SPORTS AND PRIZES.

Foot race; distance, 100 yards; four persons entered; won by J. J. Kearney; prize, a meerschaum pipe, presented by P. Wasserman.

Boys' foot race; distance, 75 yards; three boys entered; won by E. McGregor; handsome pair of sleeve buttons, presented by Chas. Haunstein.

Ladies' target shooting; won by Mrs. Bybee; elegant album, presented by J. K. Gill & Co.

Putting the heavy shot; four persons entered; won by H. Hamilton; moustache cup and saucer, presented by Henry Ackerman.

Putting light shot; three entries; won by H. Hamilton; a case of perfumery, presented by a friend.

Running jump; four entries; won by H. Hamilton; an elegant pair of vases, presented by Hodge, Calef & Co.

Standing jump; four entries; won by H. Hamilton; portfolio, presented by Chas. Hirstel & Co.

Hop, step and jump; four persons entered; won by R. Donnovan; an order for a season hat, donated by C. H. Meusdorffer.

Running high jump; four entries; won by C. Warren; bottle of perfumery, donated by Dr. Pfunder.

Wheelbarrow race; four persons entered; won by C. Holman; a book, presented by Major Bell.

Sack race; four persons entered; won by E. McGregor; beautiful tortoise card-case, presented by H. J. McCormick.

Standing high jump; two entries; H. Hamilton carried off the prize, which was an order for one hundred calling cards, donated by Geo. H. Himes.

BEAUTY AND HOMELINESS CONTRASTED.

According to announcement, a competent committee was appointed to decide the vexed questions of beauty and ugliness. After a lengthy deliberation, the committee made the following decisions and awards:

Mrs. L. F. Chemin was declared to be the most handsome lady on the grounds. The prize was one dozen cabinet photographs, donated by Messrs. Bosen & Megler.

Mrs. C. J. Williams was pronounced the handsomest wife of a printer. The prize was an order for a dozen handsome photographs donated by Messrs. Buchtel & Stolte.

Mr. Wm. E. Cook was decided to be the ugliest printer on the ground, and Messrs. Buchtel & Stolte have kindly consented to give him a dozen fine cabinet photographs (if the camera can stand it), in honor of the enviable distinction.

Charles Christie was declared to be the fattest (?) printer on the grounds, and awarded a valuable sack of bran, generously donated by Geo. T. Myers. "Charley" thought it a huge "gouk," but shouldered his sack resignedly and walked off.

Charles A. Ball, Esq., was for some strange and unaccountable reason pronounced the homeliest man in the crowd, and presented with a handsome (?) picture in the shape of a hideous black mask. We question much if such a decision would have been made had the members of the committee been composed of ladies; but it was a good jest, and afforded all pretext for a hearty laugh at the expense of our young legal friend.

BASE BALL MATCH.

The base ball match for a coin prize of $25, which was announced to come off on the grounds, began about 3:30 P. M. Owing to want of time it was decided to play but 5 innings. R. Bird was chosen umpire, and called the game at once. The match was played between the Arcadian club of this city, and a picked nine selected on the ground. Notwithstanding the manifest superiority of the former club as a nine, over the latter, the game afforded great diversion to the large crowd who watched the contest to its close with unflagging interest. The following are the respective nines and the positions occupied: Arcadians—Bassett, c; J. Bird, p.; C. F. Speck, s. s.; Hopkins, 1st b.; A. Raleigh, 2d b.; J. Brandt, 3d b.; R. Cushing, l. f.; W. Matthews, c. f.; J. Burk, r. f. Picked nine—Thompson, c.; Wiley, p.; Wilcox, s. s.; — Snow, 1st b.; Gearin, 2d b.; Hurley, 3d b.; Northrup, l. f.; Lamb, c. f.; Duniway, r. f. A spirited contest followed, resulting in the triumph of the Arcadians. The score stood: Arcadians, 23; picked nine, 8.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Half-past 5 o'clock was the hour appointed for the excursionists to leave the grounds for the boat. At that time the first whistle of the steamer reminded the crowds that the hour for starting homeward was arrived, and soon the human tide was pouring down the hill and over the smooth sward toward the point of embarkation. Tired with the exercise, pleasures and excitements of the day all were ready to start for home. Six o'clock arrived, the order was given "cast off your lines," the steamer and barge were swung with the prows down stream, and we were off for Portland. On the way down the boat touched at Vancouver to enable persons to embark or debark, and then steamed toward our destination. Dancing was resumed on the barge and kept up until the city was reached. Just as the steamer was passing the city front, a number of sky-rockets and Roman candles were sent off which, together with a considerable quantity of red fire burned at short intervals, presented a grand finale to the day's pleasures and the success of the printers' picnic. Similar pyrotecnic displays were made from the OREGONIAN office, in response, as the steamer and her precious human burden "rounded to" and came along side the dock.

Twelve hundred persons, it is estimated, were present on the grounds, and but little short of 1,000 persons left this city. Altogether considered, it was the largest and best conducted picnic excursion which ever came off in the city. All members of the craft feel proud over the success of their first picnic, and their numerous friends—the name of which is legion—are gratified to a no less degree. It was a grand success in every particular. Good order was maintained throughout, and the best of feeling prevailed. No intoxicating liquors were permitted to be sold on the grounds, and not one drunken individual was seen among the large crowd. A man from Vancouver who opened a lager beer stand some distance from the grounds, was waited upon by the committee and required to pack up and leave at once.

INCIDENTS.

As the steamer was passing down the river, a few moments after leaving the wharf in the morning, the whole force of operatives employed at the Willamet iron works appeared in a body on the wharf and gave three hearty cheers to the printers and their guests. It was an indication of the fraternal feelings between the members of the two avocations—printers and artisans—and was certainly a most gratifying honor bestowed upon the intelligence and dignity of the "craft." This manifestation of sympathy and brotherhood was handsomely done and duly appreciated by the "boys."

Owing to an accident to the Webfoot there was no boat race. The committees still have in their possession the silver cup. It is more than probable that the question as to which crew the cup should belong will soon be settled by a challenge and its prompt acceptance. We hope that the question at issue will soon be set at rest.

A little son of Dr. Weatherford met with a painful accident while on the grounds. He was watching the game of base ball and standing near one of the batters. The player made a vigorous "pass" at the ball, when the bat slipped from his grasp and struck the little fellow on the forehead. He was knocked prostrate and stunned for a few moments. No serious injury was sustained.

Two prizes, besides the silver cup, remain in the hands of the committee, undisposed of—the large cake presented by A. E. Miller & Co., and the handsome book donated by Mr. S. A. Moreland. Some satisfactory disposition will be made of these articles as soon as the committees shall meet.

The foot-ball used at the grounds afforded infinite amusement and muscular exercise to several hundred persons during the afternoon. Foot-ball was one of the most exciting and amusing games indulged in on the grounds.

When the steamer was touching the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf in the evening on the return, a young man, who was in immodest haste about getting ashore, made a spring for the dock. He landed all right, but losing his balance fell into the water. Before he was fairly in the river some person sprang from the crowd and drew him up on the wharf.

PICNICS.

The Odd Fellows of the city contemplate giving a picnic in a short time. Committees have been appointed to make all necessary arrangements. Time and place will be duly stated.

The picnic given on Saturday by the pupils and friends of the First Presbyterian church proved a very successful and enjoyable affair. The excursionists embarked on board the Oneonta and went over to Vancouver and proceeded to the garrison grounds, where a very pleasant day was experienced. In the afternoon the excursionists returned to the city.

Tickets for the picnic to be held by the Baptist and Congregationalist Sunday schools, in the oak grove on the military reserve at Vancouver, next Saturday, can be had by friends of the schools by applying to G. W. Traver, corner of Third and Morrison, or L. M. Parrish, Front street, between Alder and Washington, and steamer Annie Stewart has been chartered for the occasion, and will leave the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf at 8 A. M.

BRIEF NOTES.

The Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., will meet to-morrow.

Two men were arrested for fighting on the streets last evening.

The Masonic Grand Lodge will meet in the city next Monday, June 14th.

E. J. Bryan has been elected secretary of the Father Mathew Temperance Society, vice Thomas Coyle, resigned.

The rolls of the public schools show as follows: Number of pupils—high school, 89; north school, 350; central 398; Harrison, 435.

Monday evening the United Irishmen reelected Mr. S. J. McCormick as president and M. Phelan as vice president. John Kelly was elected secretary, and John Finnen, treasurer.

A man named Martin Raymond, a fellow of infamous character, is now in jail, for pursuing girls on the streets. He has been arrested and imprisoned several times for the same offense.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

SATURDAY, June 5, 1865.

Oregon Iron Works vs tug Favorite; exceptions of Thomas J. Bulger to petition for proceeds, argued and submitted.

In re C. H. Friendly; R. Williams entered his appearance on behalf of bankrupt.

Court adjourned till Tuesday.

PERSONAL.

Mr. E. Martin, brother of Mr. P. J. Martin, and a chief stockholder and one of the directors of the Hibernian savings and loan association of San Francisco, and Mr. James Phelan, another very wealthy citizen of San Francisco, are on their way here by the Ajax.

FOUND.—On First street, between Morrison and Alder, No. 105, the place where watches, clocks and jewelry can be bought at reasonable prices, and where watch repairing is done at a lower price than at any other establishment in this city. Call on W. Friedlander.

The railroad war and other events that have occupied the attention of the public for day's past were nothing as compared with the excitement created by BECK & WALDMAN, the well-known clothiers, who are selling their Summer Stock of Clothing, Men and Boys' wear, at fearfully low prices. Before making a purchase step into their place and see what they can do for you. The stock of furnishing goods at this house is complete.

Big Bonanza's are all very well in their way, but that popular dealer in Clothing, JOS. KOHN, opposite the National Bank, is content to serve his many patrons and the public in general with the very latest goods in his line, and to give the purchaser the benefit of low prices during the dull times. His stock of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, etc., was never more complete. You will never regret your purchases at Kohn's. Call to-day.

AT THE GREAT EASTERN CLOTHING STORE they are offering the finest Clothing to be found in the city, at prices that defy competition. There you can select from the latest styles which are laid in upon the arrival of every steamer from San Francisco. A full line of Furnishing Goods, Youths' Suits, Valises and Trunks constantly on hand. Observe the sign, "Great Eastern Clothing Store." W. HARRIS, Proprietor, 125 First street.

COLD LUNCHES.—The oyster season having closed, WALLER & SON, Oak street, between First and Second, will serve Rare Lunches to their patrons at all hours. The OXFORD SALAD DRESSING, their own preparation, is meeting with great favor. Try it.

FEMININE VAGARIES.

Bracelets so long discarded, are coming in fashion again. The most popular just now are plain wide bands of Roman gold.

A new French wrap, for evening wear, is of white satin, quilted and edged with lace. It is made single-breasted and with deep revers.

Black velvet around the neck ("dog collars") is still fashionable. The ends are fastened behind by gold or pearl button, or monogram pin.

Combination suits are as popular as ever. The combination consists of sleeves and underskirt of one color, and waist and overskirt of another.

A pretty fashion, and one appropriate to the season, is that of wearing a bunch of natural flowers at the belt or throat. Violets just now is the rule.

A great many of the new spring costumes are shirred entirely up the front breadth. The effect is pretty, but for catching dust shirs are famous.

Undressed kid gloves, of every color, are introduced again for the summer season. They have moderately long gauntlets and usually four buttons.

Floral necklaces are new. They are of small artificial flowers strung on a fine wire. The necklace goes twice around the neck and hangs down in front.

Walking skirts are generally fuller than last year. They touch instead of clearing the pavement now and have a vast deal of fullness concentrated behind.

The large breastpins or brooches, now so fashionable are called "Big Bonanza Brooches." They are of the Palais Royal order, and not destined to be fashionable very long. They are gaudy and not neat.

Free Musical concert this evening by Prof. Seidlack's juvenile band, at the museum, 70,000 sights and a feast of music for 25 cents.

The Pace that Kills.

"It is the pace that kills." People who live fast get old rapidly. Nothing wears out the constitution like dissipation and late hours. Hygeia, goddess of health, bitterly revenges herself upon all who break her laws, not alone those who do so wantonly, but even those who are compelled by hard necessity. Constant overwork saps the physical structure with no less certainty, if less rapidly, than dissipated habits. There is, however, an antiseptic which, so far as it is in the power of medicine to retard the wear and tear of the system thus accelerated, achieves that object most successfully. This preservative is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vitalizing agent without a peer. Premature decay, whether it be the result of inherent weakness, hard work, continuous anxiety, dissipation or disease, is stayed in its withering career, and the exhausted and shattered system powerfully reinforced by this genial restorative.

Many Suffer rather than take nauseous medicines; and this is not to be wondered at, as the remedy is often worse than the disease. Sufferers from coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to Consumption, will find in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

THOROUGHBRED MERINO BUCKS AND EWES.

I OFFER FOR SALE, AT MY RANCH, IN LINN county, seven miles from Harrisburg,

40 MERINO BUCKS,
1, 2 and 3 years old.

40 MERINO EWES,
1, 2, 3 and 4 years old.

Which will be sold at reduced reasonable rates for cash, or for good notes, at 12 months' time, bearing interest. These are the FIRST CHOICE of the

MONSON & JEWETT IMPORTATION,

Brought to Oregon in October, 1873, and proved to have been the best importation ever made to our State. Seventeen of these Merino Bucks last year sheared 331½ pounds, ranging from 16 to 25 pounds averaging exactly 19½ lbs. to the fleece. The fleeces of the Ewes last year averaged 14¾ lbs. and this year they average over 16 lbs. to the fleece. My Bucks are not yet sheared this spring.

These sheep are PERFECTLY HEALTHY and thoroughly acclimated, and show great improvement on our soil, both as to size of animals and weight of fleece.

ALSO, FOR SALE,
Thoroughbred English Cotswold Bucks and Ewes.
As fine as are on the Coast.

My Cotswold Bucks last year averaged 14½ lbs., Ewes 11 lbs. to the fleece.

Address me at PORTLAND, or visit the ranch, where my agent will show the stock and the sample fleeces. Sample fleeces can be seen at L. GOLDSMITH & CO.'S, Portland.

THE LAST STATION

He had been sick at one of the hotels for three or four weeks, and the boys on the road had dropped in daily to see how he got along and to learn if they could render him any kindness The brakeman was a good fellow, and one and all encouraged him in the hope that he would pull through The doctor didn't regard the case as dangerous but the other day the patient began sinking, and it was seen that he could not live the night out. A dozen of his friends sat in the room when night came but his mind wandered and he did not recognize them

It was near one of the depots and after the great trucks and noisy drays had ceased rolling by, the bells and the short, sharp whistles of the yard engines sounded painfully loud The patient had been very quiet for half an hour, when he suddenly unclosed his eyes and shouted

"Kal-a-ma-zoo!"

One of the men brushed the hair back from the cold forehead, and the brakeman closed his eyes and was quiet for a time Then the wind whirled around the depot and banged the blinds on the window of his room, and he lifted his hand and cried out

"Jack-son! Passengers going north by the Saginaw road change cars!"

The men understood The brakeman thought he was coming east on the Michigan Central The effort seemed to have greatly exhausted him, for he lay like one dead for the next five minutes, and a watcher felt for his pulse to see if life had gone out. A tug going down the river sounded her whistle loud and long, and the dying brakeman opened his eyes and called out.

"Ann Harbor!"

He had been over the road a thousand times, but had made his last trip Death was drawing a spectral train over the old track, and he was brakeman engineer and conductor.

One of the yard engines uttered a shrill whistle of warning as if the glare of the head light had shown to the engineer some stranger in peril, and the brakeman called out.

"Yo-slanty—change cars here for the Eel river road!"

"He's coming in fast," whispered one of the men

"And the end of his run will be the end of his life" said a second

The dampness of death began to collect on the patient's forehead and there was that ghastly look on his face which death always brings The slamming of a door down the hall startled him again, and he moved his head and faintly called

"Grand Trunk Junction—passengers going east by the Grand Trunk change cars!"

He was so quiet after that that all the men gathered around the bed, believing that he was dead His eyes closed, and the brakeman lifted his hand moved his head and whispered

"De—"

Not "Detroit, but Death! He died with the half muttered whisper on his lips And the head-light of death's engine shone full in his face and covered it with such pallor as naught but death can bring —Detroit Free Press

There has been no [illegible] in mercantile circles since our review of Friday matters moving on quite smoothly [illegible] the usual comfortable supply of [illegible] funds [illegible] While [illegible] no [illegible] complaint [illegible] generally well [illegible] probable [illegible] trace there is an evident lack of funds [illegible] turning [illegible] local improvements which [illegible] not satisfactory

The merchandise market is not so active as was the case when the spring trade [illegible] its height but in some lines of goods a fair degree of life is still maintained Occasionally merchants from the interior are making orders to piece out their stocks until the country trade is supplied The agricultural implement houses which all had a very good year in 1874 are enjoying a repetition of the same this year and from the immense import of implements and machinery received and sold by dealers in this city during the past year an observer would believe the farmers of Oregon ought surely by this time be supplied with all the necessary paraphernalia to cultivate in the most approved method the comparatively limited proportion of our fertile soil which has been put under the plow There is no way of arriving at even the approximate amount of money which annually goes out of Oregon for this class of goods but it must have been very large during the past two years However on no other imports of equal value does our state receive a better return as will be seen by the increased productions exported and we would regard it as a more hopeful sign were the raw material of various kinds which is every year shipped away but to return in a manufactured state converted into the latter condition within our borders than to witness a decline in the imports of improved farming utensils and machinery without these could not be made here which would be better still But we import year after year thousands of tons of goods such as boots shoes clothing of some kind dried fruits canned goods leather furniture timber etc etc which could be made put up or had here with a small outlay of capital compared with what it requires to construct and carry on the large establishment for making machinery We believe in beginning at the proper beginning place of every thing and our people must learn to walk before they can expect to run and we must not expect to see a locomotive factory supported where a box factory has not enough patronage to keep it in operation nor a rolling mill where even the garden tools are all made abroad

Produce Market.

In this department of trade which contributes the main branch of our commerce there is no important change to note The demand for produce is generally fair though an exception might be made of bacon which is dull of sale The inquiry for breadstuffs is not urgent but prices are nominally firm and wheat is quotable at a higher figure than before for some months Flour is not so high in proportion and choice brands are no being pressed on the market at present rates

The receipts of wool are gradually increasing and shipments will be large from this forward There is some animation in the market and choice lots are freely taken at our last quotations

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax sailed from San Francisco for this port to day with freight and passengers.

The British bark Cam Tual has finished her cargo and gone down the river

The ship City of Vienna is getting her ballast out and will begin to load in a few days.

The brig Perpetua due from San Francisco, has not yet arrived

The schooner Superior with a cargo of produce has gone down the river and will sail for San Francisco in a few days

San Francisco Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH]

SAN FRANCISCO June —Flour—Good brands extra, $[illegible]

Wheat—$1 60@1 70 shippers offer $1 [illegible] for new for immediate delivery

Barley—Feed $1 [illegible]@1 80

Oats—Oregon $2 07½@2 15 light feed $1 52

Hay—$12@16

Potatoes — Market [illegible] $[illegible] for bull (new) offering

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—There is no change in this cereal in the market since our last weekly review A few small lots have been offered in the market but buyers seem to be about as indifferent as sellers and the difference between holders terms and sellers offers is as wide as ever Quotations are almost nominal at $1 50@1 55 per cental in the local market.

FLOUR—In this commodity there are but few new developments to note As will be seen by our export lists the shipments both to San Francisco and to ports to the north continue to be quite large for the season We see no reason to change our quotations of one week ago $5 per bbl for standard extras $4 25 @4 50 for outside brand and $4 for superfine. The local trade is quite active

OATS—The surplus does not seem to be quite exhausted yet and a few small lots continue to reach the market Prices however are rather weaker and some lower quotations to day are 55@60 cents per bushel in sacks

BARLEY—There is but little inquiry at present and only a small amount is changing hand Quotations are unchanged

MILL FEED—There is still but little beyond the requirements of the home market, though a few lots have been shipped to Victoria and other northern ports We quote bran at $15@16 50 ₩ ton shorts $22@25 chops, middlings etc $[illegible] oil cake meal $30 with but little in market.

HAY—A full supply is in the market quotable $10@11 ₩ ton for fair to best timothy loose and $11 @12 baled

POTATOES—Receipts have fallen off and but few of the old crop are left Good lots would sell at $1 50@1 bushel

ONIONS—There are but few lots in the market quotable 2 cents ₩ lb nominally

APPLES DRIED—There is a fair demand for fair lots either in sacks or kegs the latter preferred at 5½@6c cents ₩ lb Exports are increasing

APPLES RIPE—A small lot occasionally reaches the market but none of good quality quotable $1@1 25 ₩ box

BACON—There has been a large amount received during the past week and the market is almost overstocked Quotations are lower at 8@9½c ₩ lb for shoulders 13@14c for hams and 12 @ [illegible] for sides of good country cured Sugar cured quotable 2@3c higher

LARD—Good Oregon made is worth 16c ₩ lb in kegs or tins but no sign of an advance

BUTTER—It is difficult to quote good table but for always sells readily in this market while poor stuff is a drug the year round Common rolls worth now 20c ₩ lb

CHEESE—Quotable from State dairies at 1 @16c ₩ lb

EGGS—The quotations to day are 18c ₩ dozen with no discount but reported weak

CHICKENS—There are plenty in the market but not very choice We still quote at $4 for good full grown, and $2 50@3 a dozen for spring

BEEF CATTLE—Live cattle in fair condition are quotable at [illegible] ₩ lb on foot or dressed at [illegible]

HIDES AND FURS—There is a good trade being carried on by local buyers and shippers Beef hides are quotable for choice dry 16@18 c ₩ lb green salted 7c green 6c culls 10@ [illegible] elk 15 20c ₩ lb deer 28@30c ₩ lb dried and 60@75c apiece green mink skins each $1 50 otter $[illegible] beaver [illegible]

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable

Dr A A Hayes State Assayer of Massachusetts. says of it "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes"

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black at discretion It is easily applied being in one preparation and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off
